Windows open.
Space breathes.

Layouts shift. Boundaries dissolve.
Function evolves.

This is architecture in motion.

Morning calls for focus.
Afternoon drives collaboration.
Evening invites connection.

Design sets the rhythm.
Material defines the atmosphere.

Architecture anticipates what's next.

We design for a world that is fluid, layered,
and constantly transforming.
Flexibility is not a trend, it's a requirement.

Living Home reflects this evolution.
Spaces that transition seamlessly.
Environments that balance comfort and performance.
Places that work harder, and feel better.

As the way we live and work continues to shift,
so must the spaces we create.

Living Home is not static.
It is intentional.
Adaptive.
Alive.

The spaces we design shape how people live, work,
and connect.

THE NATURAL LANGUAGES OF NATURE

Nature sets the tone, and technology brings it to life. Stone inspired surfaces shaped through design mastery, where depth, movement, and tactility feel intentional and contemporary. Refined aesthetics and finish intelligence capture nuance and the way material holds light, creating architectural clarity with an emotional pull that remains precise, modern, and elevated.

THE LASTING EXPRESSION OF NATURE

CARRARA ICON

Carrara is a marble of enduring natural beauty, built around mineral depth, organic veining, and unmistakable elegance. Carrara Icon captures the nuance of true marble through layered veining and refined surface control, transforming a lasting reference into a coordinated porcelain collection where realism, touch, and architectural continuity elevate the classic.

CRISTALLO

A crystalline stone language defined by the behavior of light, not pattern alone. Cristallo translates fractured depth and fluid veining into porcelain, with finishes engineered to tune radiance from quiet matte to satin, silky touch surface with controlled sheen. The result enhances brightness, adds dimension, and brings refined clarity to interior spaces.

A CONTEMPORARY DIALOGUE IN TRAVERTINE

AETERNA X

Aeterna X expands the language of travertine through a bold crosscut interpretation designed to mix and match seamlessly with the classical vein cut collection. Horizontal striations sweep across the surface, breaking linearity and revealing the stone's layered depth. The result is travertine with rhythm, a broader architectural movement that enhances spatial continuity and brings a modern presence to commercial compositions.

WHERE DESIGN TURNS INTO ART

A surface language made for composition. Contrast, rhythm, and tactile detail become tools for designers who build identity through layering and choice. Cross collection mix and match unlocks personalization across walls, floors, transitions, and feature moments, allowing each space to feel curated, expressive, and distinctly authored without losing coherence.

DUAL

A highly resolved system of reliefs, finishes, and mosaics, translating advanced porcelain technology into unusual depth, versatility, and material presence. Working within an essential palette, it shifts attention from color to the expressive power of surface, where texture, gloss, grain, and form come together in a sensorial language that expands compositional freedom and brings a bold architectural character to contemporary interiors.

MOSAICS PROGRAM

Dual's mosaic extends the collection into a fully articulated language of personalization. Through complementary interpretations that shift emphasis, it opens new ways to compose surfaces, from subtle texture to bold graphic statements.

TIME, WEAR, LIVED IN

SABI

Sabi transforms the traces of time into a surface language, making it a unique cross-collection connector within the portfolio. Blending a wabi-sabi sensibility with advanced ceramic technology, it preserves the most beautiful marks of wear and memory, revealing a sensorial surface where light and touch bring warmth, depth, and quietly lived-in sophistication to life.

TACTILE SIDE OF COLOR

LOOM

Loom transforms color into a tactile design experience. Through ceramic innovation, its relief surface achieves a matte finish with a soft, woven-like sensorial effect, while Warp introduces a quieter plain option that gives compositions space to breathe. Together, in vibrant 6x6 and 2x10 formats designed for mix-and-match use across the portfolio, they turn color into a tool for contrast, rhythm, and expressive surface design.

DESIGN THAT BELONGS

The foundation pieces. Core collections with trend awareness and enduring appeal designed to move effortlessly across projects, applications, and design directions. Versatile material languages that bring consistency and confidence, the surfaces designers return to because they hold space beautifully and always feel right.

APALACHES

A soft stone expression rooted in Appalachian soapstone heritage, translated into a stratified surface language that feels extracted, not printed. Apalaches brings quiet depth and crafted character into architecture, where layers, texture, and grazing light turn walls and floors into composed, tactile planes.
